SPRING-1946

Lining-Out Stock

Price List

Azalea Hino-Crimson

A new Azalea introduced by us in the Fall of 1944.

The photo is a true representation of the plant and its flowers and colors. It was taken when almost finished blooming to show its "NON-FADING" quality.

It is a cross between Hinodegiri and Amoena and is an excellent grower with sturdy branches of the up-growing type. The foliage is large and a glossy dark green in color. The color of the flower is a showy, clean, crimson-red, exactly as pictured above. It is hardier than the Hinodegiri and is very good for forcing. Prices listed inside.

Gentlemen:

We are herewith sending you our latest list of Lining-Out Stock. Though the list is small, there are still many interesting items.

All stock offered is of the best grade, and will be carefully packed to insure safe arrival.

There are listed some new and some fairly recent introductions by us. All are well tested and good.

Our terms are not difficult. We ask to have cash accompany all orders and in turn there will be no packing charge. For orders amounting to less than $10.00, 10% of the list price must be added. If less than 50 of a variety are ordered, add 10% to the price.

As you no doubt have noted on the cover, the firm name has been changed to John Vermeulen & Son, as my son has joined me in the business after recently returning from the Army. Hoping that you will show him the same courtesy and consideration that I have always received, I remain,

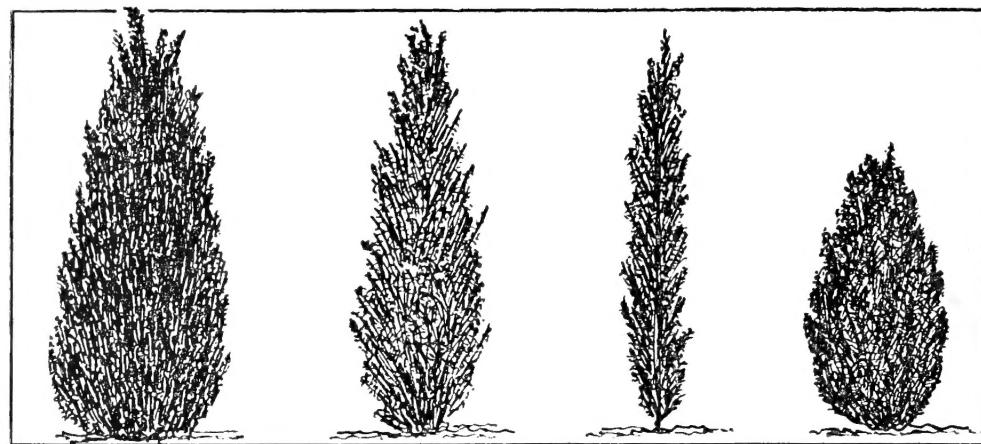

Very truly yours,

JOHN VERMEULEN

TAXUS ~ Our Specialty

Pyramid

Pillar

Sentinel

Narrowbush

— AT LAST! TALL, NARROW, HARDY YEWS! —

Out of many media seedlings, 30 were selected in 1932. After twelve years these new varieties are all that proved truly worth while. All have given no problems in hardiness nor growing habits, which are substantially as sketched above.

Available for Spring, 1946

Only 25 of a variety to a customer. 2 1/4" pots. $35 ea.

TAXUS MEDIA PYRAMIDALIS (Pyramid Yew) (See Sketch). A fast growing yew with vertical branches and striking black-green needles. Truly a rich, showy, full-bushed column.

TAXUS MEDIA PYRAMIDALIS ROBUSTA (Obelisk Yew.) Similar to pyramidalis, but heavier branched. The needles are large and more glossy.

TAXUS MEDIA STRICTA (Narrowbush Yew.) (See Sketch.) The needles are short and thin, giving a compact effect, which the almost vertical branches and dwarf, narrow shape augments.

TAXUS MEDIA STRICTA VERIDIS (Grassgreen Yew). Similar in every way to stricta, except the needles, which are larger and gay bright green, both Winter and Summer.

Available for Spring, 1947

TAXUS MEDIA SENTINALIS (Sentinel), TAXUS MEDIA PILARIS (Pillar), TAXUS MEDIA PILARIS GRANDIFOLIA (Bigleaf).
